

---

Ethical enterprises: how to create moral managers who live by example?

Sarat C Das

KiLax Ltd, London, UK

---

Keywords

Axiology , casuistry, meta-ethics, normative ethics, neuroethics, value-judgement, social contract theory, supervenience, trolley-problem

Abstract

A leader in organisation requires to come to terms with the complex nature of value judgements as revealed in descriptive, meta-, normative and applied ethics. Such an understanding will enable laying down an appropriate code of conduct accommodating all the stakeholders' interest. The paper takes its course through several approaches including casuistry to resolve a moral problem in an organisational situation.

---